

TOP 10 GOLDEN OLDIES

- 1 When senior goldens are adopted, they seem to understand that they've been rescued, and are all the more thankful for it.
- 2 You can teach an old dog new tricks! Seniors have the attention span and impulse control that makes them easier to train than their youthful counterparts.
- 3 A senior golden won't grow any larger, so you'll know exactly how much pet you're getting.
- 4 Older dogs have learned what "no" means.
- 5 Older goldens settle in easily, because they've earned what it takes to get along with others and become part of a pack.
- 6 Senior pets are often already housetrained, or can be more easily housetrained than a young pet with a tiny bladder.
- 7 Seniors are often content to just relax in your company, unlike younger pets, who may get into mischief because they're bored.
- 8 Consider a senior golden a retiree, rather than a high-energy young dog who will run you ragged. Not that older dogs don't require any exercise, they do—but they're not going to need, or want, to run a marathon.
- 9 Older dogs leave you time for yourself, because they don't make the kinds of demands on your time and attention that puppies and young dogs do.
- 10 Seniors let you get a good night's sleep because they're accustomed to human schedules and don't generally need nighttime feedings, comforting, or bathroom breaks.

Seniors are the hardest dogs for RAGof AZ to place in a forever home.

You'll feel the rewards every day you spend together.
