

Working goldens

THErapy | SERVICE | AGILITY

MAX

Max goes to work every day with his Mom at a pediatric therapy clinic. Max listens intently while Mariana reads to him during her speech therapy session.

MAYA

Maya, who previously served as an assistance dog, now provides much appreciated assistance to her current owner.

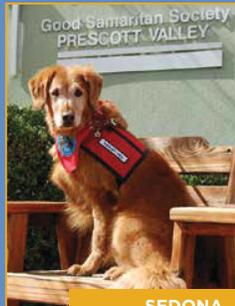

MURPHY

Murphy is a therapy dog at Banner Desert & Cardon Children's Medical Center volunteering with his Mom since 2010. With a friendly smile and happy wag of his tail, he lifts the spirits of patients, visitors and staff with his unconditional love and special form of "touch" therapy.

SEDONA

Sedona is registered with Therapy Dogs International and works in Prescott alongside her owner visiting an Adult Care Home and Senior Living Center weekly, and has done so for over 6 years.

CAESAR

Caesar works for Hospice of the Valley where he visits patients at private and group homes. Caesar is also a volunteer with both the Peoria School System and the Peoria Public Library in the PAWS 2 Read program where kids read to him.

HONEY

Honey at 10 is doing better, faster and more accurate than ever. We started agility because she needed a job that was athletic. She did us both a favor; I am now hooked on dog sports, barn hunt and lure coursing, too.

Maddie is a certified Therapy Dog with Paws For Friendship, Inc. She visits patients at Granite Creek Health and Rehabilitation Center giving love to patients and the hard working staff.

MADDIE

'DR.' DUDLEY

Dudley has been a Pet Partners Animal Assisted Activities (AAA) dog, often called a therapy dog, since 2011. He has visited with over 2,300 people at Tucson Medical Center, the University of Arizona, and the Pima County Read to a Dog program. He loves his job very much, and Dr. Dudley is always happy to be 'on call.'

Steve is a Nationally Registered Service Dog trained in mobility and pheromone assistance. Steve is also an Ambassador to the Paradise Valley School District for their disabled children at one of their preschool facilities and is seen as a regular at Arizona State Veterans Home at Steele Park.

STEVE

McGEE

McGee loves action, and Dock Diving is his favorite activity.

McGee is a very exuberant dog. Training for, and competing in, agility has allowed him to focus better. It also builds our relationship.

